

Act No. 150 (S.123). Conservation and land development; public service; judiciary

An act relating to standardized procedures for permits and approvals issued by the Department of Environmental Conservation

This act addresses:

- standardizing the procedures for permitting decisions of the Department of Environmental Conservation, according to five categories established in the act
- requiring participation in the permitting process in order to appeal to the Environmental Division, with exceptions
- providing that appeals from jurisdictional opinions issued under 10 V.S.A. chapter 151 (Act 250) are taken directly to the Division
- allowing more time for the development of rules on the management of contaminated soils excavated for development
